LONDON, January 26.

The Public may be aſſured the following are AUTHENTIC.

ABOUT three o'clock yeſterday afternoon, the Right Honourable Lord North, laid before the Houſe of Commons, by His Majeſty's command, the two following Papers.

TRANSLATION of the DECLARATION ſigned and delivered by Prince de Maſerano, Ambaſſador Extraordinary from his Catholic Majeſty, dated the 22d day of Jan. 1771.

HIS Britannick Majeſty having complained of the violence which was committed on the 10th of June, 1770, at the iſland commonly called the Great Malouine, and by the Engliſh Falkland's Iſland, in obliging, by force, the commander, and ſubjects of his Britannick Majeſty, to evacuate the port, by them called Egmont, a ſtep offenſive to the honour of his Crown;—the Prince de Maſerano, Ambaſſador Extraordinary of his Catholic Majeſty, has received orders to declare, and declares, that his Catholic Majeſty, conſidering the deſire with which he is animated for peace, and for the maintenance of good harmony with his Britannick Majeſty, and reflecting that this event might interrupt it, has ſeen with diſpleaſure this expedition tending to diſturb it; and in the perſuaſion in which he is, of the reciprocity of ſentiments of his Britannick Majeſty; and of its being far from his intention to authorize any thing that might diſturb the good underſtanding between the two Courts; his Catholic Majeſty does diſavow the ſaid violent enterprize; and in conſequence, the Prince de Maſerano declares, that his Catholic Majeſty engages to give immediate orders, that every thing ſhall be reſtored in the Great Malouine, at the port called Egmont, preciſely to the ſtate, in which they were before the 10th of June, 1770: for which purpoſe his Catholic Majeſty will give orders to one of his officers, to deliver up to the officer authorized by his Britannick Majeſty, the port and fort called Egmont; with all the artillery, ſtores, and effects of his Britannick Majeſty, and his ſubjects, which were at that place, the day above-named; agreeable to the inventory which has been made of them.

The Prince de Maſerano declares, at the ſame time, in the name of the King, his maſter, that the engagement of his ſaid Catholic Majeſty, to return to his Britannick Majeſty, the poſſeſſion of the fort and port called Egmont; cannot, nor ought, anywiſe, to affect the queſtion of the prior right of ſovereignty of the Malouine Iſlands, otherwiſe called Falkland's Iſlands. In witneſs whereof I the underwritten Ambaſſador Extraordinary, have ſigned the preſent Declaration with my uſual ſignature, and cauſed it to be ſealed with our arms. London, the twenty-ſecond day of January, one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy-one.

Signed

(L. S.) Le Prince de Maſerano.

Tranſlation of the Earl of Rochford's ACCEPTANCE, dated the 22d of January 1771, of the Prince de MASARANO's Declaration of the ſame date.

HIS Catholic Majeſty having authoriſed the Prince of Maſerano, his Ambaſſador Extraordinary, to offer in his Majeſty's Name, to the King of Great Britain a Satisfaction for the injury done to his Britannick Majeſty by diſpoſſeſſing him of the Port and Fort of Port Egmont; and the ſaid Ambaſſador having this day ſigned a declaration, which he has juſt delivered to me, expreſſing therein, that his Catholic Majeſty being deſirous to reſtore the good harmony and friendſhip which before ſubſiſted between the two Crowns, does diſavow the expedition againſt Port Egmont, in which force has been uſed againſt his Britannick Majeſty's poſſeſſions, commander and ſubjects; and does alſo engage that all things ſhall be immediately reſtored to the preciſe ſituation in which they ſtood before the 10th of June, 1770. And that his Catholic Majeſty ſhall give orders, in conſequence, to one of his officers, to deliver up to the officer, authorized by his Britannick Majeſty, the Port and Fort of Port Egmont, and all his Britannick Majeſty's artillery, ſtores and effects, as well as thoſe of his ſubjects, according to the inventory which has been made of them. And the ſaid Ambaſſador having moreover engaged, in his Catholic Majeſty's name, that what is contained in the ſaid declaration ſhall be carried into effect, by his ſaid Catholic Majeſty, and that duplicates of his ſaid Catholic Majeſty's orders to his officers, ſhall be delivered into the hands of one of his Britannick Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State, within ſix weeks. His ſaid Britannick Majeſty, in order to ſhew the ſame friendly diſpoſition on his part, has authoriſed me to declare, that he will look upon the ſaid declaration of Prince de Maſerano, together with the full performance of the ſaid engagement, on the part of his Catholic Majeſty, as a ſatisfaction for the injury done to the crown of Great Britain. In witneſs whereof, I, underwritten, one of his Britannick Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State, have ſigned theſe preſents, with my uſual ſignature, and cauſed them to be ſealed with our arms. London, 22d January, 1771. Signed

[As the Miniſter did not favour the Houſe, neither in writing, nor by ſpeech, with the King of Spain's inſtructions to his Ambaſſador in London, we ſhall give what is authentically the purport of them, tho' perhaps it may not be exactly the tenor.

The King of Spain condeſcends out of his regard for his loving Brother the King of France, to relinquiſh Falkland's-Iſland. But at the ſame time proteſts againſt any claim the Engliſh may ſet up to the right.]

After the Clerk had read the papers,

Lord N——h ſaid, when the merits of the pamiſh declaration came under the examination of the Houſe, he would avow the part he had taken in the negociation.

Mr. D——ll moved, that all papers, letters, inſtructions, to our Miniſters, &c &c. &c. relative to the taking of Falkland's Iſland, and the negociation with Spain upon the ſubject, might be laid before the Houſe. To which Lord N—h conſented.

Mr. D——n made a fooliſh quibble about ſome words in the motion, conveying, as he pretended, a meaning contrary to a part of the K-g's ſpeech at the opening of the preſent ſeſſion.

Col. B——e ſhewed, that the words objected to, were copied exactly from the K—g's ſpeech He compared Mr. D——n to a ſnow ball, and was very ſevere againſt him. He then called the Spaniſh Declaration, ſcandalous and infamous, diſhonourable to the crown, and diſgraceful to the nation. He ſaid, when the merits of the Declaration came under examination, he ſhould ſpeak fully to it; for he had much to ſay upon it. But at preſent he could not help obſerving, there was not a man in England who did not condemn that Declaration. What, four months arming! and four months negociating! and is this all!——The noble Lord (Lord N—h) ſaid in this Houſe before the Holidays, that Spain ſhould pay a part of the expence we have been at, in making preparations to reſent the inſult. But there is not a word of the expence in the Declaration. The enemy was not ignorant of the weakneſs and cowardly diſpoſition of the M——s. The enemy know you dare not go to war (to Lord N—th) and therefore refuſe to make us any ſatisfaction. There is not an honeſt man in England who does not abhor the preſent ſet of M——s. There is not a petty Prince in Europe who does not laugh at and deſpiſe them. Thus it is in the power of any individual to put us to an enormous expence, and our M——s dare not avenge the affront. They dare not go to war, becauſe they are afraid they ſhall looſe their places. Thus the nation is expoſed to inſults abroad, and is left a prey to jobbers and ſharpers at home. A French Secretary, being in your ſecrets, has made near half a million of money by gaming in your funds. And ſome of the higheſt among yourſelves [Lord H—tf—d, Lord H——d, &c. &c.] have been deeply concerned in the ſame ſcandalous traffic. But a day of reckoning will come. This country cannot be quiet, while every thing that is dear and valuable to the people, is thus raviſhed from them.

Lord N—th denied, that he ever ſaid Spain ſhould pay a part of the expence. He declared he could not have ſaid ſo, becauſe he had never entertained the leaſt idea of making ſuch a demand.

Col. B—e ſaid, he had not truſted to his own memory only, for his account of that fact. He aſked ſeveral Members, who all remembered the words.

Mr. B--ke ſaid he remembered the words. He condemned the declaration in very ſevere terms. He called it ſcandalous, infamous, and treacherous. He ſaid the nation would demand the blood of thoſe that made it. Nothing elſe could---nothing elſe would ſatisfy.--This declaration, this wiſdom, this ſpirit of the Miniſtry, this vindication of the honour of the crown, this ſecurity of the rights of the ſubject, which lies in a nut ſhell, has coſt the nation above two millions of money!----The land-tax was prematurely voted, or rather the country gentlemen have been duped out of 500,000l. The trade of this country has been greatly diſtreſſed and injured; 40,000 ſeamen have been voted, an additional army of 13,000 men have been voted, and they muſt all be paid; a great number of ſhips have been put in commiſſion at a great expence to the public; and all this, for what? Why, to procure that ſcandalous, baſe and diſhonourable declaration that lies upon the table.

The Miniſters made no reply.

While Mr. B--ke was ſpeaking, there was ſuch a confuſion and noiſe in the room from ſome of the members going out, and others coming in, and others talking, that he was obliged to ſit down for a ſhort time. When he got up again, he began with words to the following purport: Is this ſociety ſo irregular, ſo totally loſt to decency and good manners, that I cannot be heard when I am ſpeaking to a queſtion of the utmoſt importance to their kingdoms in general, and to our conſtituents in particular? Are the ears of this Aſſembly to be wilfully miſſed from giving attention to me, when I am arguing on a point of ſuch a nature, that there muſt be blood, I ſay blood, to attone for the miſconduct of thoſe who tranſacted this dark affair? The day may not be immediately at hand; but it cannot, it muſt not be at a very great diſtance; it will come, when the lives of ſome concerned in this buſineſs muſt make attonement to this injured nation.——

When the debate was over, ſeveral new writs were moved for. But when Mr. W——rn was mentioned, the members expreſſed their contempt of it, by a very loud and diſmal groan (ſuch as the Livery of London generally give at Guilhall, to the name of an Alderman whom they diſlike) and it was negatived by ſeveral of the m—rs crying out no! no! no! A circumſtance ſo extraordinary, and peculiarly diſgraceful, as not to have happened in the memory of the oldeſt member of the H—ſe of C——s, and muſt forever cover the apoſtate with ſhame.

LONDON,

Jan. 17. We hear that orders have been ſent, within theſe three days, to Ireland, to raiſe five thouſand Roman Catholicks immediately in that kingdom, to complete the Britiſh army. This extraordinary meaſure, added to the precipitation with which it is ordered to be carried into execution, ſhews plainly that the miniſtry look upon war as not only inevitable, but cloſe at hand.

A ſquadron of four ſhips of the line is ordered to be got ready with all poſſible expedition for the Eaſt-Indies. It is to be commanded by Commodore Spry.

It is reported ſome diſputes have ariſen at an honourable board, which will be productive of many changes no leſs extraordinary than important.

Jan. 19 Yeſterday Rear Admiral Montague had the honour of kiſſing their Majeſties hands on being appointed Commander in chief of his Majeſty's ſhips and veſſels in the Downs.

It was this day confidently reported, that the affair of the Falklands Iſlands is now finally and amicably ſettled between the Courts of London and Madrid.

It was with pleaſure remarked yeſterday that the leaders in all the contending parties were at Court, to pay their compliments to her Majeſty.

From the London Gazette, Jan. 22.

At the Court at the Queen's Houſe, the 22d day of January, 1771.

PRESENT.

The King's Moſt Excellent Majeſty in Council.

His Majeſty having been pleaſed to deliver the cuſtody of the Privy-ſeal, to the Right Hon. Henry, Earl of Suffolk and Berkſhire, his Lordſhip was thereupon, by his Majeſty's command, ſworn of his Majeſty's moſt honourable Privy Council, and likewiſe Keeper of the Privy-ſeal, and his lordſhip accordingly took his place at the Board.

His Majeſty having been pleaſed to appoint the Right Hon. George Dunk, Earl of Halifax, to be one of his Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State, his lordſhip, was this day, by his Majeſty's command, ſworn one of his Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State, accordingly. [GAZETTE.]

This day at noon, the Earl of Rochford, Secretary of ſtate for the ſouthern department, ſent a letter to the Lord Mayor of this city, of which the following is an exact copy: viz St. James's, Jan. 1771.

MY LORD,

"I TAKE the earlieſt opportunity of informing your Lordſhip, that the Spaniſh Ambaſſador hath this day, at two o'clock, ſigned a declaration relative to the expedition againſt Port Egmont, in Falkland Iſland, which his Majeſty has been pleaſed to accept.

I am, MY LORD,

Your Lordſhip's moſt obedient humble ſervant,

Lord Mayor ROCHFORD.

Since this paper went to preſs we have intelligence, that a letter had been received at Lloyd's coffee-houſe, from Lord Rochford, one of his Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State, informing the merchants that a convention was actually ſigned with Spain, in which that court has agreed to give up Falkland Iſland, to pay Five Hundred Thouſand Pounds as a compenſation to Great-Britain, and alſo to pay the Manilla Ranſom within twelve months. [All which, except ſigning the Convention, appears to be falſe.]

BRANDISI, Dec. 20.

LETTERS arrived here assure positively, that the Russians have not only retaken the isle of Lemnos, but also that all the Turks who were conducted there by Hassan Bey, have been cut to pieces, and that the castle has surrendered. Some persons have even already received the capitulation.

Constantinople, Nov. 17. The Chevalier du Tot is returned here, after putting the Dardanelles in a good state of defence; and the Grand Signor has made an offer to pay him 100 scudis per day, not only during the continuance of the war, but afterwards, on condition of his residing at this place, in order to teach the Turks military discipline.

We learn that the Russians, not having been able to make themselves masters of any ports in the Archipelago, to refit or shelter their fleet, from the violent storms that are frequently felt their, during the winter, have been obliged to abandon those seas, and that besides, they had not a sufficient number of troops to venture a descent. Their retreat has opened the navigation of the Hellespont, and our vessels, as well as those of other nations, arrive daily from thence without any obstacle.

Stralsund, Dec. 5. Last Wednesday in the afternoon the Powder Magazine in this town blew up, at a time when all the workmen were in it. By this accident, upwards of 100 people lost their lives, and above 1000 were dangerously hurt. Seventy houses were thrown down, and all the windows in the town were broken.

Venice, Dec. 12. We hear by letters from Constantinople, that the Grand Signor will not listen to any proposals of peace, and that his Highness has resolved to put himself at the head of 300,000 men next campaign, to chase the Russians from all the conquests they have made in his empire.

Warsaw Dec. 22 The Chief, M. Salva, has been entirely defeated by Count Branicki, near Wysokie Littewski. The former was at the head of 2000 men, and the latter had only 800. Two hundred of the Confederates were killed on the spot, and 500 taken prisoners.

Cadiz, Dec. 26. For some days past all the batteries of this city have been mounted. The engineers, &c. work with the greatest activity, in order to finish two new ones, which have been built at the the extremities of the two moles for defending the entrance of the harbour.

Genoa, Dec. 29. Letters from Toulon advise, that on the 19th inst. the workmen in the dock-yard were augmented, in order to finish with the utmost dispatch 16 men of war of the line, and 8 frigates; and that at Port l'Orient they were fitting out 40 men of war, which were all to assemble next May at Brest; Mr. Bambeyon is to have the command of the latter. The same advices add, that the Grand Master of Malta has refused the Russian ships the liberty of wintering at Malta; and that in order to guard the port against any surprise, he has ordered guns to be mounted upon the batteries and forts, and obliged all persons above 15 years of age to bear arms.

Warsaw, Dec. 29. Letters from Lemberg, dated the 23d of this month, declare, that the Turks have surrendered up the fortress of Schurschewo, the last important place on the Danube, to the Russians, who have taken possession of it.

Leghorn, Jan. 2. All the letters from Spain say, that the Catholick King is firmly resolved to remain sole master of the navigation of the South sea, and consequently not to tolerate any foreign nation that should establish settlements there, nor even in the streights of Magellan.

Madrid Jan. 3. There is a squadron of 12 ships of the line at Cadiz, ready to put to sea, which is to be commanded by the Sieur Tillie; there is besides at Ferrol, another squadron ready equipped, consisting of 12 ships of war, among which are one of 112 guns, five of 80, and six of 70, with six frigates, which wait only for the first notice to sea under the command of Sieur Reggio.

Pisa, Jan. 12. This morning Count Orlow, Minister Plenipotentiary and General of the Russian troops, arrived here from Leghorn, after having performed his quarantine. He is accompanyed by the English Envoy; and intends to pass part of the winter here, and at Leghorn, in order to inspect the refitting of his squadron, several of which are expected from the Archipelago and Messina, at Port Perraio and Leghorn, where they will be repaired and careened. The Sieur Rutherford, Commissary of the Court of Petersburgh, will sell at Leghorn the prizes taken by the Russians, some of whom have lately arrived in the harbour.

LONDON.

Jan. 8. The Affairs of America are to have the first place among those which will be laid before parliament; and the Irish business, it is said, is to be postponed for some time.

We hear from Cadiz, that the preparations for the encampment of a large body of troops, in the environs of that place, have in consequence of an express from Madrid, been suddenly stopped; but that the last division of the Regiment of Ireland and three Companies of Walloon Guards, and sailed, within these three weeks for America; and that four other Regiments were preparing to embark for that quarter of the Globe, when the advices came away.

They write from Paris of the 21st of Dec. that the Parliament had received letters of Jussion, on the 19th, by which his Majesty commands it to resume its function; but that the parliament refuses to obey them,

It is reported that the British Merchants at Lisbon have received a promise of being restored to all their privileges.

It is said that the Achilles, which was bound to England from America, with dispatches from Virginia, foundered at sea, and all the crew perished.

We hear that the Hon. Capt. Howe, brother to Lord Howe, is to have the command of a squadron to cruise between the Ushant and Cape Finistere.

Extract of a letter from Edinburgh, Jan. 2.

"This day came on the election of a Peer to serve in Parliament, in the room of the late Duke of Argyle. The Earl of Broadalbane, and the Earl of Stair, were the Candidates——Lord Stair was elected. There was 28 Peers present, 17 of whom voted for Lord Broadalbane, and 11 for Lord Stair. The proxies were mostly in favour of Lord Stair."

Jan. 10. Sir Edward Hawke yesterday resigned his post of First Lord of the Admiralty.

Jan. 12. Yesterday the Earl of Sandwich kissed his Majesty's hand at St. James's, on being appointed first Lord of the Admiralty, in the room of Sir Edward Hawke, who has resigned.

In order to relieve the industrious and poor as much as possible, the Ministry are determined to back the application for forwarding a bill immediately, for the free importation of wheat from America.

From the positive assertions of the French Ministers, it is said they do not intend immediately entering into the disputes between Great Britain and the Court of Spain.

Jan. 15. Yesterday evening, at five o'clock died at his house, in Bloomsbury square, his Grace John Russel, Duke of Bedford, Marquis of Tavistock, Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of the counties of Bedford and Devon Colonel of the first regiment of the Devonshire militia, Vice Admiral of the coasts of Devon, High Steward of the corporation of Huntingdon, an elder brother of the Trinity House, President of the Foundling Hospital; one of the Governors of the Charter House, Chancellor of the University of Dublin, Recorder of Bedford, L. L. D. and Knight of the Garter.

L—d M——d and L—d C——n are, at this time, we are assured, equally assiduous in searching into the old books for authorities for and against a late doctrine and preparing themselves for the next meeting of the H—— of L—ds,

Orders are sent to the Tower for the coinage of seven shilling pieces.

The Earl of Sandwich is not only first Lord of the Admiralty, but Secretary of State till another is appointed.

It is currently reported at the west end of the Town, that the Earlf Suffolk, is or will be appointed Secretary of State, in the room of the Earl of Sandwich—If this proves true, then the Grenville party will begin to form the Ministry.

Besides the banishment of the Duke de Choiseuil and the Duc de Praslin, four Bishops have been also ordered to their respective dioceses.

Letters from Genoa, by way of Naples, advise, that the Grand Signor has ordered by three Firmans, that all the inhabitants of the Morea, who are able to bear arms, shall repair to the different rendezvouses appointed them near Adrianople.

It is said that a convention between the Crowns of Great-Britain and Spain, with regard to their respective limits will speedily be exchanged.

It is said that the benefit arising to the executor of a deceased Duke, will amount to upwards of 160,000l.

Jan. 16. We are credibly informed, that the late Duke of Bedford died possessed of a real estate of 45,000l. per annum, besides about 700,000l. in different public funds.

Jan. 17. It is said, that Sir F——r N——'s present disposition against the ministry, arises from some disgust taken in Council.

It is said to be one inducement to the M——y to promote Sir F——r N——n to the degree of a Peer, that he has promised to oppose L—d C—m in the Upper House.

Sir F—r N——n will certainly be in the Upper House before the 22d.

It is generally imagined, that the death of the D—e of B—— will lessen considerably the power of the present m——y; and be productive of many changes among themselves, if not their absolute dismission,

It is now positively said, that a peace is agreed on between the Turks and the Russians.

Jan. 18. We hear that the D— of G—— has absolutely refused taking any part in any future administration at the request of his Lady.

It is said the resignation of a L— C— J—— is occasioned by some slight treatment with respect to the disposal of the Seals.

The Earl of Sandwich is appointed First Lord of the Admiralty, in the room of Sir Edward Hawke, resigned. Thus we see any expedient, any shift, however desperate or infamous, is adopted, rather than send for any man who is honoured with the public esteem and confidence.

The Ministers say, Sir Edward Hawke resigned on account of his ill state of health. But it is not true. Sir Edward is no worse now than he has been for some time past. The fact is, that he resigned because he found his interest was gone before him. He found he was no longer Minister of the department he held. In plainer terms, he was counteracted by the Carlton-House Junto.

The tenure of holding an office now, is implicit obedience to the Princes Dowager of Wales.

Jan. 25. Letters newly received from France declare, that they are at present in the greatest state of confusion; the King remains obstinate in his requisition of the parliament to a compliance with his commands; and the parliament are determined in their opposition to them. The letter concludes with saying, that this domestic warfare must soon be terminated, since the King dare not punish, and the parliament will not obey.

The dispatches communicated to the Spanish Ambassador from his Court on Wednesday evening last, are said to contain more haughty requisitions than any hitherto demanded; which seems at last, to convince our ministry, so strongly, of the folly of procrastination, that upon Lord Howe's being ready to sail it is said war will be immediately declared.

This day both Houses of Parliament met pursuant to their last adjournment, but nothing material was done.

The change in the French Ministry is now believed to be no more than a finesse to impose upon the credulity of the English.

CHARLESTOWN, Feb. 21.

On Friday last arrived here, his Majesty's packet-boat the Eagle, commanded by Capt. William Nicholls, in eight weeks from Falmouth; by which advice is received, that his Excellency the right honourable Lord Charles Greville Montague, our Governor in chief, &c. may soon be expected to return to this province.

Although the Lands in East Florida are not in general good, except at the Musquito's, (now called Smyrna) where Doctor Turnbull has settled his Greeks, and some parts of St Juan's River, yet we are assured, that a gentleman who went thither from this province, having planted an half acre of canes, has made some sugar and a hogshead of Rum therefrom last year; and that a sugar work is intended to be established there this year, on account of Mr. Oswald of London.

The following receipt for destroying grashoppers, which devour the Indigo plants, has been communicated to a committee of the Assembly by a person here, who, on its being found effectual, is to receive five hundred pounds sterling for the discovery.

"Brimstone flowered one third, tar two-thirds,
"put into a pot, set on Fire before the sun rises, for
"three mornings; half a pint to each fire, and
"about six fires for an acre."

His excellency governor Wright of Georgia, dissolved the General Assembly of that province by the following proclamation, dated 22d of February, Whereas the Commons House of Assembly of this Province have assumed to themselves some very extraordinary and unwarrantable powers, and have otherwise behaved in such a manner as I think it my indespensible duty to dissolve them: And whereas, on stating the whole matter to his Majesty's honourable Council, for their opinion and advice, they have unanimously advised that the said Assembly be immediately dissolved by proclamation: I have therefore thought fit, with the advice of his Majesty's honourable Council, to issue this my proclamation for dissolving the same, and the General-Assembly of this province is hereby accordingly dissolved." On the 6th instant, his Excellency ordered writs to be issued for electing a new Assembly.

March 21. Herman Husbands, said to be chief Ring-leader in the late commotions in North-Carolina, and one of the Assembly, having been taken and imprisoned at Newbern, the insurgents (as they are called) so seriously threatened to besiege that town, to release him, that a body of militia was raised to oppose them. On the 8th a bill of indictment was preferred against said Husbands, at the Court of Oyer and Terminer, but the grand jury not finding the bill, he was discharged, and the quiet of the province is said to be restored.

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.

On Saturday Night, about 12 o'Clock, the City was alarmed by the Cry of Fire, which proved to be in the House of Mr. Thomas Rodgers, in Front-Street, near Market Street Corner, the Effects of which were very tragical—Moſt of the Houſe was conſumed, and ſeveral adjoining Buildings, occupied by Mr. Harvey, Stay-maker, and Mr. Aaron Hews, Hatter, were greatly damaged, Mr. Rodgers himſelf periſhed in the Flames, and alſo Mrs. Baxter, an aged Woman, related to Mr. Rodger's Family, two little Daughters of Capt. Campbell, being grand Daughters of Mr. Rodgers, were very much burnt, and their Recovery is doubtful. Mr. Rodgers's Remains were not found till the next Day, (yeſterday Morning) when they were taken out of the Ruins reduced almoſt to a Coal. Mrs. Rodgers, Mr. Baxter, his Son-in-law, and an old Negro Woman eſcaped out of the Houſe with great Danger, and ſomewhat ſcorched, but not badly. After Part of the Houſe had fallen in, one of the Girls, about ſeven Years old, was taken out of an upper Room, from amidſt the Flames, by the Reſolution and Activity of a young Sailor. The Fury of the Flames, and the Difficulty of coming at the Fire was ſuch, that notwithſtanding the extraordinary Efforts of a vaſt Multitude of People, with ſix Engines conſtantly playing, it was not entirely ſubdued till five o'Clock in the Morning. The Fire was firſt diſcovered in the back Buildings of Mr. Rodgers's Houſe, by what Accident unknown. Several Perſons are Sufferers, not only by the Fire, but by ſundry Goods being ruined in attempting to remove them, in the Hurry and Confuſion uſual in ſuch Times.—'By terrible Things, in Righteouſneſs, does the God of our Salvation ſometimes viſit us.'

It was obſervable on this Occaſion, that the Engines made in Philadelphia, by Mr. Richard Maſon, worked far better, and with greater Effect, than any of thoſe imported from London.

We hear from Satauket on Long-Iſland, that on Good-Friday, the 29th ult. the following melancholy Accident happened there, viz.

One Capt. Tyler, Maſter of a Veſſel, belonging to that Place, who had left New York the Day before having on board, beſides the Maſter, one Gerſhom Jones, belonging to the Veſſel, and the following Paſſengers; viz. one Gill, a Seamen lately returned from a Voyage, Ann Gill, his Wife, who had been for ſome Years a Nurſe in the Family of Mr. Andrew Seton, of that Place, and a Daughter of his, about nine Years of Age, who was returning Home from New York, where ſhe had been ſome Time for the Recovery of her Health; in going into the Harbour, the Veſſel run upon the Bar, and the Tide being there extremely rapid, the Veſſel preſently overſet and filled. Jones had hold of the Painter of the Boat along Side, which might have ſaved all the People, but he being ſurprized, let go the Rope, and the Boat was driven away.—The Maſter and Gill the Sailor, were ſaved, but Gerſhom Jones, Ann Gill the Nurſe, and Miſs Seton, were unfortunately drowned before any Aſſiſtance could be given them.

A Gentleman, in about eight Days from Newburn, (in North Carolina) reports, that the Regulators, who upon the Releaſe of Huſbands, ſeemed to have been appeaſed, had begun a new Inſurrection, and that Governor Tryon, with a conſiderable Body of the Militia, was preparing to march againſt them.

POETS' CORNER.

OH! would you know what secret charm,
Will fair Myrtilla's heart disarm;
Leave all those silly trifling arts
Which only please more trifling Hearts.
With Reason woo the lovely maid,
Nor think delusive vows can aid;
Myrtilla well the difference knows,
'Twixt real and affected woes.
If e'er you flatter, all's undone,
Myrtilla will not thus be won;
Her sense and spirit well declare,
She feeds on something more than air;
The fop that lifts her to the sky.
She thinks unworthy a reply;
For this is her established rule
"A flatt'rer is a knave or fool."

INOCULATION,

[Under no specious Title.]

NOtwithstanding any reports to the contrary; Doctor Rogers begs leave to acquaint the public, that he still continues the practice of inoculation at his hospital near Norwalk with amazing success, having inoculated upwards of a thousand without the loss of one single patient. He is very confident that the more sensible part of mankind cannot, and hopes that others will not be amused with Suttonian pretences, when it is a well known fact that inoculation is not, nor ever was so much practised, either in England, Scotland, or Ireland; nor with a degree of success to be compared with that which has attended the practice in North-America. Doctor Rogers makes use of much less Mercury than is commonly administred, having found by experience that with the help of some other medicines, the constitution is thereby much less exposed to be injured. He has inoculated upwards of three hundred patients within the term of three months, and has had a hundred and fifty under his care at one time. Wherefore although the New-Englanders may thank Mr. Latham for his particular concern for them; yet they may perhaps think that they may possibly do without his immediate services. Doctor Rogers is much obliged to the public for the custom he has already been favoured with, and hopes for the continuance of their favours of the like kind, as he still stands ready to serve them.

Dated at Norwalk, the 20th day of March, 1771.

THESE are to give notice that we the subscribers in Monmouth County, East New-Jersey; intend to petition the next General Assembly of said Province, to have the bridge (over Crosweeks creek at Richard Brown's mill) supported by a public charge. 74 77
